

Are you interested in helping to prevent substance use in your community?
Consider getting involved with your Local Prevention Council:

Somers Comes Together

Please join us for our next meeting:

TUESDAY AUGUST 28th—10:30am

Somers Public Library-Blake Community Room

What is a Local Prevention Council? Local Prevention Councils (LPCs) are made up of volunteers from diverse sectors in the community including the municipal sector, youth, parents, grandparents, business leaders, educators, law enforcement, faith based organizations, healthcare professionals, concerned citizens and other organizations. LPCs work to raise awareness about substance use and its impact on the community by planning and implementing educational opportunities, local media campaigns, and other events around the topic of substance abuse prevention. In addition, they look to address policies at a local level that may have an impact on substance abuse. Participation in an LPC is an opportunity to make positive changes in your community, meet other committed community members and participate in engaging activities ranging from program planning to positive youth development activities.

Let's see what we can accomplish when Somers Comes Together.
